Condé Nast Traveler readers cast more than 100,000 votes for their favorite cities in the U.S. in this year's Readers' Choice Awards survey—in fact, we got so much feedback, we had to divide our list in two. This roundup features the country's major metropolises, with populations over 150,000. Is your favorite on the list? Counting down...

8/15 Naples, Florida

Among the country's best destinations for golf and sunshine (which also spells: a great place to retire), Naples is dotted with sleek hotels, shops, and restaurants. When you tire of steel and glass, head to the white "sugar" sand beaches at Clam Pass Park and Delnor-Wiggins Pass State Park, or check out the symbolic Naples Pier for some fishing—and dolphin-watching.
